FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH will submit a $95,000 budget to the congregation in November, the highest in history, it was announced by Cecil O'Steen, planning chairman. The proposed 1960 budget includes $43,000 which will be designated as a new building fund for construction of a new educational building at Third and Main. This is the beginning of a nine-year program in which the church hopes to have its new buildings completed and ready for dedication in 1968, the 100th anniversary of the Church, Mr. O'Steen said. The Church is virtually debt free and November will see an intensive drive as the stewardship campaign gets underway in every department.
